The sunshine warms the daytime
And moonshine graces night
And the starshine shimmers sweetly
With a billion points of light
But your lovelight is with you everywhere
Every moment that you live
And it's always with you day or night
And it's always yours to give

Let your lovelight through, let your lovelight through
Whether skies are black or blue
Let your lovelight through, whoa, let your lovelight through

Well they say that love's a battlefield
And they say that life's a war
And it seems no matter what you give
The world will only ask for more
But there's something you have for everyone
Be they family, foe, or friends
It's the lovelight from your sweet sweet soul
A gift that never ends

Let your lovelight through, let your lovelight through
Whatever life does to you
Let your lovelight through, whoa, let your lovelight through

Pull those curtains down; kick the doors open wide
Let whole world see that lovelight there inside
Don't keep it yourself, don't hide it deep and tight
Open up and share your lovelight day and night

Get out of your room, get outside where the world can see
Let your lovelight show what a loving world can be
With a smiling heart and a gentle soul, and a brilliant lovelight too
Life's a living glory when your lovelight shines from you

It's a graceless world of hatred
Full of envy, pride, and greed
And a shameful world of hunger
Full of suffering and need
And though we can't heal all the pain
The whole world might endure
For hungry hearts and hatred
There's a sure-fire cure

Let your lovelight through, let your lovelight through
Help hope glow anew
Let your lovelight through, whoa, let your lovelight through
Let your lovelight through, let your lovelight through
Whatever life does to you
Let your lovelight through, whoa, let your lovelight through
